2 Parties Battle on Platforms

'Get Specific' Taft Tells Democrats; McCormack Harps on Promises

Conventions Near

Social Security, Homes, Civil Rights Crop Up in Scrap

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY

Washington, June 3 (AP)—Rep. McCormack (D.-Mass.) said today Republican lawmakers ought to "do something" about promises made in their 1944 party platform.

The No. 2 Democrat in the House gave that reply to the suggestion of Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) earlier this week that the Democrats "get specific" in their 1948 platform.

McCormack, chairman of the 1944 Democratic platform committee and now assistant minority leader, told newsmen:

"No matter what platform the Republicans adopt in Philadelphia, it will be meaningless unless they take action on important bills before Congress adjourns."

Taft, chairman of the Senate's G.O.P. policy committee and a presidential aspirant, had said:

"I want to put the Democrats in a position where they will have to get specific about where they stand on such issues as civil rights."

Republicans meet in Philadelphia June 21 to draft a new platform and nominate party candidates for president and vice president. The Democrats meet in the same city July 12.

Avoids Issue

McCormack didn't have anything to say about civil rights. That was the biggest headache the Democrats had at their 1944 convention, and the final wording represented a compromise. But on the subject of being "specific," he said:

"It is interesting to read of Senator Taft's maneuverings in politics. His latest is his effort, as he says, to have the Republican platform one that will not be general in order to have the Democratic platform specific.

"The Democratic platform is always frank and specific. For example in 1944 the Republican platform on Palestine called for 'a Jewish commonwealth' there. The Democratic platform called for 'a free and independent Jewish commonwealth in Palestine.'"

The Republican plan was vague. The Democratic plan is definite."

Amplifying his "do something" challenge, McCormack quoted twice from the 1944 Republican platform, as follows:

Social security—"Extension of the existing old-age insurance and unemployment insurance system to all employes not already covered."

Housing—"The stimulation of state and local plans to provide decent low-cost housing properly financed by the Federal Housing Administration, or otherwise, when such housing cannot be supplied or financed by private sources."

McCormack then said the Republican-controlled Congress apparently does not intend to enact pending bills to accomplish these and other pledges.

See Family Scrap Plan

Some Democrats viewed Taft's civil rights jab as an effort to goad Democrats into another slam-bang family scrap like the one that occurred between southern and northern contingents in the 1944 convention. The Democrats finally compromised on a plank that said:

"We believe that racial and religious minorities have the right to live, develop and vote equally with all citizens and share the rights that are guaranteed by our Constitution. Congress should exert its full constitutional powers to protect those rights."

The Republican 1944 platform, on the civil rights question, said:

"We pledge the establishment by federal legislation of a permanent fair employment practice commission.

"The payment of any poll tax should not be a condition to voting in federal elections and we favor immediate submission of a constitutional amendment for its early enactment."

Since 1944 Democrats have con-

Bernadotte Is Told to Fix Time For Holy Land Cease-Fire Action

Arabs and Jews Go on Fighting; Count to Meet With Both Sides and Commission in Jerusalem; Jews Resume Battle

Cairo, June 3 (AP)—Arabs and Jews went on fighting in Palestine today but a United Nations mediator got the job of setting the time for a cease fire to last four weeks.

The mediator, Swedish Count Folke Bernadotte, working out of Cairo, was told to fix the day and hour by the U.N. Security Council, meeting yesterday in Lake Success, N. Y.

The council's plea for an armistice had been accepted Tuesday by both sides—the Israel government of the Jews and the Arab League Political Committee for the five Arab countries with troops in the Holy Land.

The United States was said to want the truce to start by Sunday. But Jamal Husseini of the Palestine Arab Higher Committee told U.N. newsmen five days would be needed to give Arab fighters the word.

Israel last night called off a cease-fire order in effect less than a day on the Jewish side. A Tel Aviv announcement said the order had been based on a misunderstanding.

The order was effective at 3 a. m., Tel Aviv time, yesterday (6 p. m., Easter Standard Time, Tuesday). The government said it had taken that to be the cease-fire deadline set by the Security Council. Later, it explained, it learned that hour was merely the Council's deadline for replies to a resolution calling for an Arab-Jewish cease fire.

The government said Jewish Forces had been ordered to resume fire until the time, to be fixed by the U.N. mediator, for both sides to stop shooting.

Earlier, Israel had accused the Arabs of breaking the presumed cease-fire and said unless they quit shooting by sunset, "we shall reserve full freedom to resume major operations."

Bernadotte was instructed to consult with Arabs, Jews and the U.N.'s American-Belgian-French truce commission in Jerusalem in deciding when hostilities should stop.

In accepting the U.N. plea, the Jews listed "assumptions" as to its meaning and the Arabs "explanations" of their position. Despite this, Syrian Fairs El Khouri, Council president, ruled yesterday that the acceptances were unconditional.

Israel assumed, among other things, that "its freedom to admit immigrants regardless of age will not be impaired."

The Arab governments said continued immigration of Jews of military age would be a big threat to Arab countries.

They said also that any solution "which does not maintain Palestine's political unity" would have no chance of success.

This ran counter to the U.N. partition plan of last November. Israel bases its existence, partly upon that plan.

New York Boosts Water System Fund

New York, June 3 (AP)—Increase of the outlay for the first stage of the Delaware water system project from $7,643,000 to $14,643,000 was voted yesterday by the City Planning Commission.

The extra funds will be used to let contracts for tunnels which originally were planned for construction next year, and to cover expected increases in the cost of building the project.

The Board of Water Supply requested the fund increase.

The water system, expected to cost more than $300,000,000 will include aqueducts through Westchester county, across the Hudson river and north to three reservoirs near Lackawack in Ulster county.

Scheduled for completion in 1955, the project will carry 540,000,000 gallons of water a day to New York city.

Draft Measure Is Laid Before Senate As Peace Premium

Langer Says He Has 7 Amendments to Cover Truman Rights Program

Washington, June 3—A five-year peacetime draft to meet the manpower needs of both the regular armed services and the reserves was laid before the Senate today as "the premium on our peace insurance policy."

This description came from Chairman Gurney (R.-S.D.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee in a speech prepared for the opening of debate on the controversial measure.

Gurney and other G.O.P. leaders hope to win Senate passage of the draft revival bill by early next week—possibly through extra sessions. But there is stormy debate and possible trouble ahead.

Senator Russell (D.-Ga.)—with advance pledges of widespread southern support—has promised to fight for an amendment that would require the services to set up segregated white and Negro units for all men who asked to serve only with those of their own race.

On top of this, Senator Langer (R.-N.D.), an avowed foe of the draft, said he will offer seven amendments to cover President Truman's civil rights program.

Across the capitol, the House Rules Committee scheduled another afternoon session (1:30 E.S.T.) in its long series of hearings to determine when a similar bill should be sent to the floor for House action.

Republican leaders of both chambers have listed the selective service bill as one of only three "must" measures to be cleared before the scheduled June 19 adjournment.

Neither the House nor Senate bill makes any provision for a universal military training program. President Truman asked for this along with a temporary draft revival in his St. Patrick's Day speech to Congress spelling out a new American "stop-Russia" policy.

But despite the omission of a compulsory training plan for youths, Defense Secretary Forrestal wrote Gurney that the pending bill is an "excellent" one.

The Senate measure would require all men 18 through 25 to register. Those in the 19-25 group would be liable for induction and two years service. Eighteen-year-olds could volunteer for one year of training.

Other voluntary enlistments also would be continued but Gurney insisted these will not guarantee the 1,795,000 regulars and 1,520,000 reserves required during the year that begins July 1.

Gurney denied "any contention that war is in the offing, nor even that war is inevitable."

But he added that this nation's armed forces now "are scattered thinly over the globe with only a pitifully small number of reserves available in the United States to support the overseas forces."

Gurney said that while the draft would be authorized for five years, the program is left flexible so Congress each year can raise or lower both the regular and reserve

New Flood Grows In Columbia River As Snowpacks Melt

Rehabilitation Goes Ahead for 59,000 Persons; Damage May Be 100 Millions

Portland, Ore., June 3 (AP)—The Columbia river system spawned a new flood in its head-waters today while the crest of the old one still threatens to punch out weakened dikes far downstream near the sea.

Warning of the new flood abuilding came with residents of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia near exhaustion from their two weeks battle against what is already the river's most disasterous rampage.

All along the 1,000-mile course of the great river from the Canadian Rockies to the Pacific, waterlogged cities and farm communities braced themselves for the new onslaught—if they weren't too busy fighting off flood waters already at hand.

The old crest was rolling down the last 40 miles of its course of death and destruction to the sea. This still was a critical area.

Regular army troops, national guardsmen and civilian volunteers worked on soggy dikes only inches higher than the churning waters from Clatskanie on the Oregon shore to the stilt-supported fishing center of Astoria at river's mouth.

Again this morning—as yesterday—the danger of break-through was multiplied by a high tide coming up the river.

It was touch and go. Workers strained to build up the earthworks protecting the fertile lowlands. Their fight was against property damage only. The people were evacuated days ago.

Struggle Goes On

Upriver, too, the struggle against soft dikes went on around Portland even as the gears of rehabilitation finally meshed after

Hot Fight May Come In House

Global Assistance Bill Reduced 25 Per Cent; Other Funds Are Cut 150 Millions

Vote Is Expected

House Concurrence Is Expected; Senate Is Ready

Washington, June 3 (AP)—A 25 per cent cut in funds for the Marshall Plan and other foreign aid programs was urged today by the House Appropriations Committee.

The committee sent to the House floor for probably hot debate tomorrow a $5,980,710,228 global assistance measure.

This is a reduction of only $553,000,000, or 7.5 per cent, in the amount Congress itself authorized and President Truman asked.

But the effect is a one-quarter slash for this reason: The authorization law provided that the money could be spent during 12 months. But the committee said the cash it is willing to put up must be stretched out over 15 months.

Slightly more than $5,000,000,000 of the total asked had been budgeted for use during the 12 months ending next April 3, or at the rate of $417,000,000 per month.

The committee trimmed that total to $4,663,000,000 for 15 months, a spending rate of $311,000,000 monthly.

Informed of the committee's action, Economic Cooperation Administrator Hoffman promptly called for the full $4,245,000,000 requested for his agency. The committee pared the European Recovery item to $4,000,000,000.

"The less money we have, the less recovery we can expect to get," Hoffman told a news conference.

He said he "certainly hoped" final action by Congress would provide the full sum. With the funds already made available for E.C.A., that would supply the $5,300,000,000 original proposed for the Marshall Plan.

Other funds in the bill were cut $150,000,000 with the money to be spent during a 12-month period as originally planned.

In explaining the cuts and spreading out the spending period, the committee said the programs contemplated "will not permit the expenditure of more funds than has been provided . . . on an intelligent basis" before July 1, 1949.

Should an emergency arise before then, it added, Congress will be in session again next January to take action.

Summary of Action

In summary, here's what the committee recommended to finance the Economic Recovery Act passed by Congress two months ago:

Economic Cooperation Administration, for aid to 16 non-Communist European nations and western Germany — $4,245,000,000 asked, $4,000,000,000 recommended. Congress had authorized $5,300,000,000 for E.C.A. and already has made available $1,055,000,000.

Aid to Trieste — $20,000,000 asked as a separate item; the committee recommended that this come from the general E.C.A. allotment.

Assistance to Greece and Turkey—$275,000,000 asked, $200,000,000 recommended, with no stipulation as to how the cut should be applied.

Aid to China—$400,000,000 requested and recommended.

International Children's Emergency Fund—$600,000,000 requested and recommended.

Government and relief in occupied areas, administered by the army—$1,400,000,000 asked, $1,250,000,000 recommended. The committee estimated that bizonal Germany would receive $706,000,000, Japan and the Ryukus $424,000,000, Korea $107,000,000, with the balance to be used "for maintaining law and order" in occupied Austria.

International Refugee Organization — $70,710,228 asked and recommended.

There appears to be little doubt that the House will follow the recommendation of the committee and vote the fund cuts. As usual, in such instances, the administration will pin its hopes on the Senate to restore at least a part of the original amount asked.

Woman, 43, Is Found Dead of Pistol Wound

Store Burglary Is Still Unsolved

Van Buren Says Nothing Uncovered on O'Reilly Company Loss

Chief of Police Raymond Van Buren said today that "not a thing" has been uncovered by police which might lead to the solution of the theft of about $3,000 worth of cameras, fountain pens and pencils from the store of William O'Reilly, Inc., in this city on April 15.

Fingerprints which had been obtained from a cash register in the Canfield Supply Company's adjoining store, which was believed to have been burglarized on the same night, were sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation but identical prints were not on file there, Van Buren said, and it could not be learned to whom the prints belong.

The police chief revealed that two persons were arrested in an upstate city shortly after the burglary, but that, while there was some basis for suspicion that these persons may have been involved in the local theft, no definite "link" has been established.

He said that he is considering sending local detectives to question the two upstate prisoners. He did not reveal the names or the city in which the two are being held.

Detectives Say Case Closed; Connelly Continues D. A. Probe

Mrs. Julie Conklin, 43, was discovered dead in her bed at 44 Tompkins street of a gunshot wound through her heart Wednesday afternoon, the police reported.

Chief of Police Raymond Van Buren said today that Detectives Clarence Brophy and Wesley Cramer are continuing an investigation, but that the case is "just about closed." He said that the death probably was suicide.

However, Assistant District Attorney Vincent Connelly, who is also conducting an investigation, said this morning he has not yet definitely reached the conclusion that the death was a suicide. He said the wound "may have been self-inflicted or not."

Dr. J. Spottiswood Taylor was called in the absence of Coroner Ernest A. Kelly. Dr. Taylor was in New York city today and could not be reached for his official verdict, but it was learned from the district attorney's office that at midnight last night Dr. Taylor had not decided on a suicide verdict.

Coroner Kelly also could not be reached today. It was reported at his office that he is in Long Island and would not be back until late tonight.

According to Police Chief Van Buren, the inspecting officers

House Received Bill On 200,000 D.P.'s

Washington, June 3 (AP)—The highly disputed bill to let 200,000 homeless Europeans enter the United States during the next two years went to the House today with the Senate's 63 to 13 endorsement.

One Republican, Senator Hawkes (N. J.), and 12 southern Democrats cast the opposition votes last night after an 11-hour conference session.

Early House approval of a similar bill is indicated since Republican leaders have placed a "must" act on displaced persons legislation for this session.

The Senate bill would permit 200,000 carefully selected Europeans to come here in each of the next two years, starting in July. They would be in addition to the regular immigration quotas.

Kelly Pays Fine

Leo Kelly, 32, of 94 Prince street, pleaded guilty in City Court today to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. He was fined $50. Kelly was arrested at 3:15 a. m. today by Special Patrolman Thomas Lawson.

New York, June 3 (AP)—The Long Island railroad, long accused of running its trains habitually late, today amazed a trainload of commuters from Babylon by bringing them into Penn Station nine minutes early.

Higinio Morinigo, Paraguayan Head, Loses Government

Manuel Frutos Succeeds to Presidency, Says Argentine Press Correspondent

Buenos Aires, June 3 (AP)—La Nacion's correspondent in Formosa reported today President Higinio Morinigo's Paraguayan government had fallen.

The dispatch said Morinigo, whose forces recently put down a revolt, had been succeeded by Manuel Frutos, chief justice of Paraguay's Supreme Court.

Formosa is an Argentine city on the border of Paraguay.

A dispatch from Asuncion, capital of Paraguay, a week ago, quoted leaders of four political groups as saying they were planning a revolution to prevent Juan Natalacio Gonzales, president-elect, from taking office next August 15. Gonzales was chosen in February in an election which permitted the voters to cast ballots only for him. He was the government's candidate to succeed Morinigo.

However, Gonzales' nomination by the Colorado Party—the only legal one in Paraguay—split the party. An opposition formed among the forces of the Colorado dissidents, the outlawed Communists, the Liberals and Febreristas.

Many of the leaders of the four groups, which oppose not only the government, but each other, were jailed or exiled. About 400 have been held in Asuncion.

One opposition leader said last week that "whichever one of us is ready first will strike first."

Mayfair Women's Shop Will Move Into Ostrander Store

The Mayfair, formerly located at 316 Wall street, is returning to the uptown section of Kingston after an absence of about a year, and will operate two shops in Kingston. The new store uptown will be located in the building at 29 North Front street, head of Wall street, where for 30 years Walter Ostrander conducted a men's clothing store.

Since leaving its former Wall street location when the building in which it was located was leased to Lofts for a candy store, the firm has been looking for a convenient uptown site. The opportunity came when Walter Ostrander decided to retire from business.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cordeau of 319 Main street, owners of The Mayfair, leased from Mrs. Grant M. Brinnier of Saugerties the store formerly occupied by Ostrander. The new Mayfair Shop faces Wall street and is located at one of the heaviest traffic spots in Kingston. The lease calls for occupancy for several years of the two story property which has a 12 foot frontage and extends back for 65 feet. Mr. Cordeau stated that he believed the location to be one of the best in the uptown business district.

The new shop will be for women and misses and will feature corsets and accessories. Only branded goods will be carried. After renovations the shop is expected to open early in June. The second floor will be opened about October 1 with fall merchandise.

The present Broadway Mayfair at Broadway and Downs street will be headquarters of the firm. All incoming merchandise will be received there, marked and distributed between the two shops. The Broadway store in addition to its women's and misses' lines also handles infants' wear and men's furnishings.

While some improvements will be made to the front the old Dutch styling of the peculiar front, part of the windows with the roof effect will remain, since the owners feel this is in keeping with the history of Kingston. The display windows will be altered inside to accommodate the line of merchandise which will be handled. The entire interior will be renovated and decorated and a new tile floor will be installed as well as a new heating system.

A. J. Cordeau is a former manager of the local Montgomery Ward store, having been with the company for 16 years. Mrs. Cordeau is a graduate corsetiere. The Mayfair is entering its 10th year in business in Kingston. Miss Rose Cavano has been manager of the shop since 1938.

Joseph Saccoman was the broker in the transaction and the lease was handled through the office of Attorney Vincent G. Connelly.

President Leaves Capital Tonight on Speaking Tour

Washington, June 3 (AP)—President Truman, in a mood to fight for a new term, called his own signals today as he made ready to take his case to the people in 18 states.

To the latest suggestion that he withdraw from the race, Mr. Truman replied with a sharp declaration he was "not brought up to run from a fight."

The President left Democratic party chieftians on the sidelines in ordering up his special train for a strenuous speaking tour which may hold the answer to his political future.

The White House labelled the cross-country swing "non-political" but disclosed plans for five major addresses and a score or more off-the-cuff rear platform talks expected to furnish ammunition for the 1948 campaign.

Mr. Truman sets out at 10:05 p. m. (E.S.T.) for a prepared address at 9 p. m. (E.S.T.) at Chicago tomorrow night after brief talks at Fort Wayne and Gary, Ind.

The presidential special will turn eastward again from Los Angeles the night of June 14.

It was in a letter to a fellow Missourian that Mr. Truman provided the clue to his determination to battle party rebels, most of them southerners incensed over his civil rights program.

Americans for Democratic Action—the self-proclaimed liberal political organization—made public the exchange of correspondence between the President and Dr. H. H. Brummall, Salisbury, Mo., dentist.

The letters began with a suggestion from Brummall May 15 that Mr. Truman "sacrific personal prestige and political power" for the good of the party.

Brummall had supported former Gov. Lloyd Stark against Mr. Truman in the bitterly fought Missouri Democratic senatorial primary in 1940. He said he voted for Mr. Truman in the general election but had backed Stark in the primary because the governor was an opponent of the Pendergast political machine.

To this the President wrote back bitingly on May 24:

"A great many of you Democrats in 1940 ran off after a certain governor who was trying to cut my throat and he didn't do it successfully. They are not going to succeed this time either."

Presidentinl Press Secretary Charles G. Ross' only comment was that Mr. Truman's letter, if it was sent, was a personal communication.

In a second letter, dated May 27, Drummall told the President he will vote for him if he is nominated at Philadelphia next month, but without much hope for party success.

Woman Is on Way Home

New York, June 3 (AP)—An Irish war bride who served 15 months in a Nevada jail in the slaying of her husband was en route home today with her three-year-old son. Mrs. Bridget Waters, 27, had been sentenced to a one-to-five year term for manslaughter. The Las Vegas jury which convicted her recommended deportation. "I am happy I am going home," she said as she boarded the Marine Flasher yesterday. She answered most questions with "no comment" but, referring to her small son, Frank, Jr., she added, "I think it's most unfair to drag the child through this mud."

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Ellenville, June 2—Despite lowering skies over 300 marchers were in line for the annual Memorial Day parade Monday morning. In line were members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Jewish War Veterans and Daughters of the Union (the latter in automobiles), the Auxiliaries of the three organizations, the various Scout organizations and pupils of the public schools with town and village officials. Sergeant George Scher, resident army recruiting agent, was grand marshal. Clayton's Military Band headed the line of march, with the Ellenville High School Band at the rear. At the monument at Veterans Memorial Hospital the Rev. J. Elmer Cates conducted brief services which included a recitation by Miss Marilyn Freer. The parade was again halted at the memorial trees in the park at the O. & W. station for a minute of silent tribute, then proceeded to Fantinekill Cemetery, where memorial services were held. There were prayers by Rabbi Jacob I. Nislick and the Rev. James Flynn, solos by Mrs. Louis N. Zipperman, G.A.R. services conducted by the Rev. Francis E. McGuire and a poem by Miss Nellie Newkirk, with the Rev. William M. Coombe giving the principal address of the day. Mrs. Ernest Sherman placed a wreath at the monument for the Daughters of the Union. The firing squad gave a salute and taps were sounded. Services of the day closed at Liberty square, where the V.F.W. Auxiliary placed a wreath at the Honor Roll and the Rev. John H. Ludium offered prayer. Participants in the parade were served with refreshments at the American Legion home later.

A committee from the Kerhonkson Lions Club appeared before the town board at its last meeting with a letter signed by 150 residents complaining of conditions at the Kerhonkson dump. The committee also called attention to the "exposed drainage of cesspools next to the school grounds" and the "drainage of cesspools into the Rondout creek." The committee was told to report the cesspool conditions to Dr. Charles Rosenstock, deputy county health commissioner. As to the dump, the board agreed to bulldoze it once a week and cover the refuse with sand.

Says Reds Held Franklin Without Justification

Berlin, June 3 (AP)—The Russians today released Dr. Harry L. Franklin, American military government official whom they held for about 16 hours.

Franklin asserted the Russians seized him "entirely without justification" while he was on a business errand in the center of town. He was kept overnight in one of the Rusians' local police headquarters and questioned by the Russians.

Franklin was arrested by a Soviet patrol as he left a photographer's shop.

He is deputy chief of the civil administration and political affairs branch for A.M.G. in Berlin.

Franklin, a native of Lexington, Ky., last lived in the United States at 2700 Q street in Washington, D. C.

Louis Glaser, who is Franklin's immediate superior, declared:

"The Russians had absolutely no reason for arresting Dr. Franklin. He was not crossing a road block, he was not taking photographs. He was merely within his rights going into their sector of town on a business errand."

Friends said his errand was to get a motion picture camera from the shop where it had been repaired.

"When I asked that he be released," Glaser said, "they merely said they would investigate the case. It appeared to me they were not investigating at all, but just laughing at us."

Says Demand Unwarranted

Murder Charge Placed Against Mrs. Blackford

Springfield, Mass., June 3 (AP)—The socially prominent widow of a wealthy paper company executive today faced a charge of murder in connection with his death.

Walter Blackford, 61, sales manager for the Strathmore Paper Co., was killed with a carving knife, police said, as he lay helpless in bed — the victim of paralysis caused by a shock a month ago.

Police Chief George A. Yardsley said the murder charge was filed against his 55-year-old widow after he and State Police Lt. Richard Cotter questioned Mrs. Blackford for two hours last night.

Shortly after Blackford's body was found in the couple's Long Meadow home Tuesday, Mrs. Blackford was discovered lying beneath an automobile in the family garage. She was unconscious from carbon monoxide fumes.

Blackford was formerly associated with the New York publishing firm of Doubleday-Doran. Mrs. Blackford is the former Mary Bowen of Atlanta, Ga.

WAY TO THE VOTERS' HEARTS

The second session of the 80th Congress has encompassed five of the most crucial months in our peacetime history. It has made some crucial decisions, too, such as the passage of the E.R.P. bill. There are several other notable accomplishments to its credit.

Now Congress is scheduled to adjourn shortly, in time for the national political conventions. As usual, when adjournment time approaches, there is a big backlog of work piled up. But this time the backlog includes legislation which is vitally concerned with national and world history in the not distant future.

Action on some of these bills has been delayed because there are just so many hours in a day for congressmen to work. But the delay on others results from partisan division and individual obstructionism. And these tactics have happened to affect some of the most important business before the two houses.

There is the draft bill. Its fate will determine whether the rebuilding of our defense is to be a program of positive action or simply a stepping-up of production in our airplane factories.

There is the Reciprocal Trade Act. On this must be shaped the whole pattern of European trade recovery so hopefully laid out in the Marshall Plan.

There is also the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill. This promising answer to our chronic housing problem has been kicked around for some four years now.

And there are such things as bills to admit displaced persons, to revise the United Nations, to control communism, and so on.

The draft bill delay is chiefly the responsibility of the House Rules Committee. Considering the urgency of the measure, the delay is inexcusable. The extension of the reciprocal trade program is being balked and temporized with by a group which seems to think that high tariffs will fit in nicely with the world dollar shortage which is holding European recovery to a paralyzingly slow pace.

The housing bill finds many members shying away, even though its bi-partisan sponsorship gives little cause for political jitters.

Further stalling on these and other matters can do the country tremendous harm. It does not seem likely that Congress can railroad them through before June 19, for its schedule also calls for the enactment of 31 large appropriation bills before the fiscal year ends.

It seems necessary, then, that Congress should recess rather than adjourn, and come back to work when the conventions are over. Such a decision would be popular with few on Capitol Hill. The House and a third of the Senate are to be chosen in November, and this is a presidential year. Quite naturally the members would like the whole summer for campaigning.

But we can't see how any congressional candidate now in office could build himself more prestige with his constituents than by sticking to his job until it is finished.

NORTHWEST DISASTER

It has been hard to grasp the magnitude of the flood disaster developing in the Pacific Northwest over the past weeks. But there was no misunderstanding it after the shock of the destruction of an entire city.

As the terrible week-end approached many persons already had recalled that May 31 would be the 59th anniversary of the historic Johnstown flood. Little did they dream how close a parallel would be provided by the wall of water which burst suddenly through an embankment to wipe out the city of Vanport, Ore. Johnstown has been remembered as one of the great flood disasters of all times. Yet the flood only cut a swath through Johnstown; it is believed that Vanport has been destroyed utterly.

Thus more tragedy has been added to the burden carried by Memorial Day. As the flood waters recede in the Northwest, let us think not only of rebuilding that which has been destroyed, but also of putting our knowledge to work to harness the rivers still unrestrained, that such tragedies may be prevented in the future.

BEST AND WORST

Connecticut plans to test its 100 worst drivers to learn what makes them that way. At the same time it is selecting 100 volunteers whose records show that they have driven 100,000 miles or more without an accident or traffic violation. The performance of the two groups is to be studied. From the conclusions officials hope to set up rules and regulations that will reduce highway casualties.

Other states will watch with deep interest what Connecticut learns from this experimental research.

WHERE THEY STAND

Frank Owen, editor of the Daily Mail of London, when he was in New York recently, made this very interesting point:

"In the British House of Commons we have an old custom and I think a good one. It is this. Whenever a Member wishes to take part in a debate he is expected to declare his own personal interest in the matter, especially if it should be a money matter. Then the rest of the House knows exactly where he stands, and can decide why."

We have no such custom in the United States either for elected or appointed officials. They keep their affiliations secret and they generally remain secret until a scandal breaks or some nosey columnist or indignant editor exposes what could have been a legitimate relationship if it were not secret. In fact, from a practical standpoint, it would be better for government officials and members of Congress to have had some personal experience apart from the single business of getting a job in the government or running for office. They might then have a more balanced and mature view of public problems.

President Truman is not accurate in his appraisal of his constitutional obligations to keep secret the records of his appointees. Mr. Truman assumes that when Congress demands such information, it is invading the Executive prerogative. Actually, the President is forgetting that his appointees must be confirmed by the Senate, and that the Senate can refuse to confirm any or all of them without giving the slightest explanation. The Senate has that power constitutionally—and there is nothing the President can do about it.

Mr. Truman is counting on the cowardice of the Senate, which is still accustomed to stretching the Constitution as was customary during the heyday of the New Deal. Therefore, Mr. Truman assumes that the Senate will confirm his appointees with or without adequate information to justify such confirmation. If the Senate had refused to confirm Mr. Harriman as roving Ambassador attached to ERP, because as Secretary of Commerce he declined to give Congress the information it wanted, Mr. Truman would have discovered how the Constitution can work.

Mr. Truman's veto of the Loyalty Bill requiring the FBI to investigate such appointees as Congress desired to have investigated and that such records be turned over to Congress, was utterly unreasonable. Because of the confirming power of the Senate, it obviously has the right to say that it wants to know whom it confirms, what is the man's record, what are his affiliations. Actually, the Senate has often held prolonged hearings prior to confirmation, as it did with Ed Flynn, of the Bronx, and Ed Pauley, of California. But often such hearings do not provide the required information.

For instance, when Harold Ware organized his Communist cell in 1934, he chose men, some of whom eventually held positions of the greatest importance in government, including one Under-Secretaryship. The Senate would never have confirmed any of these appointees if it had had before it the record of affiliation of these individuals. But no Senate Committee and only the Thomas Committee in the House has the staff trained to discover such affiliations. The FBI has it all in their files. Why not put the FBI files at the disposal of Congress?

Mr. Truman carries the separation of powers too far. It was the intention of the Founding Fathers that the powers of government should be so separated as to avert tyranny. It was never intended that such separation should produce confusion and anarchy. As a matter of fact, it is the function of Congress to organize the Executive branch of government and to pass the appropriations for the Executive branch. The genius of the men who wrote the Constitution lay in the fact that they prevented any one branch from doing the entire job alone, one branch being dependent upon the other, one branch being required to cooperate with the other.

Mr. Truman as a former Senator should have known all this, but maybe his new Brain Trust, which includes Sam Rosenman, who long advised Mr. Roosevelt, is counseling him to make Congress a "Rubber Stamp." It won't work, Harry. Not this year!

That Body of Yours

ALLERGY IN BABIES

I recently wrote about children who "acted up" in public. While both children and parents are to blame in most cases, there are some instances where the misbehavior is caused by tiredness, this tiredness being caused by certain foods to which these children are allergic.

That "cross" babies may be suffering from allergy to certain foods is stated by Dr. Ambrose McGee, Richmond, Va., in "Southern Medical Journal." To obtain first-hand information, 150 well babies, with no history of allergy, were seen monthly during their first year for routine (not allergy) examination. The mothers were closely questioned and the children examined for signs and symptoms of any type of disturbance. Only one new food was added at a time and a five-day, then a three-day interval allowed to elapse after the first and second feeding of each food.

This thorough, carefully planned investigation of the foods causing symptoms in children gave surprising results showing that excellent nourishing foods often were the cause. The chief foods causing symptoms were oranges and cow's milk casein, 39 and 32 cases respectively. This will surprise many mothers but others already know it. The symptoms were colic, rashes and diarrhoea. Even spinach was the cause in 30 cases, though the symptoms were mild. Other foods which disagreed were mixed cereals, prunes, tomatoes, cod liver oil, carrots, oats and wheat.

Other symptoms of allergy present were vomiting, constipation, excessive crying, gagging, head colds, fretfulness, restlessness, gas or wind, sneezing and pain in abdomen.

From the above information, mothers can understand why their baby may be fretful, uneasy, have diarrhoea and head colds—even a rash—yet is eating good, nourishing foods.

We must remember, of course, that the above symptoms of allergy may not be due to foods but to substances in the air—pollen, house dust, feathers, furs of animals.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Washington—In the minds of most people, the thorny problem of John L. Lewis is far removed from the problem of American education. Yet, through no fault of his, Lewis got into the middle of the battle over federal aid to education. In fact, he nearly did the teachers a good turn.

Here is the inside story of what happened. The chief, though secret, opponents of the federal-aid-to-education bill are Speaker Joe Martin and G.O.P. Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana. They have decided that this $300,000,000 grant to the nation's schools is not going to pass this session, even though it has already passed the Senate and with the backing of such Republican leaders as Senator Taft.

However, since it isn't politically popular to oppose education, especially with the nation's schools in their present condition, Speaker Martin and Halleck have passed the buck to Congressman Fred Hartley of New Jersey, chairman of the education and labor committee.

Hartley isn't running for re-election, while Martin has presidential ambitions, and, secretly, so has Charlie Halleck. Thus it has been more convenient to let Hartley take the rap for blocking education, and it was announced that he was holding up the Senate bill in his committee.

This worked well until John L. Lewis went on a coal-strike rampage recently, causing Hartley to introduce a bill pinning Lewis's ears back. Simultaneously Speaker Martin stepped in, pulled some fast footwork with Lewis, and helped to settle the strike.

This infuriated Hartley. There is no man in public life whom he admires less than John L. Lewis and, as a result of Speaker Martin's intervention, Hartley's anti-Lewis law became unnecessary.

So, out of spite, Hartley threatened to report the aid-to-education bill out of his education committee. This, he figured, was a good way of getting even with Martin.

In the end, the speaker persuaded Hartley he had been working too hard, told him to take a six-week vacation. He did.

Hartley has now come back, meekly willing to cooperate with Republican leaders in playing politics with the nation's schools. Unless the teachers find some real political dynamite, the Education Bill will not be passed at this session.

Note—meanwhile literacy in the U.S.A. has sunk to the same point as in Russia. Proportionately, far more Japanese can read and write than can Americans.

Merry-Go-Round

Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana, brother of Huey, has appointed S. L. Digby as conservation commissioner. It's significant that Mr. Digby is attorney for Oilman-Senator William Feazel who contributed thousands of dollars to Governor Long's election. And in his new job Digby could hand out some lush favors... Nebraska Democrats are hopping mad at President Truman for assigning his old pal, insurance executive Ed McKim, to handle the presidential visit in Nebraska next week. McKim, who won Truman more enemies than friends while in Washington, now is doing the same thing among Nebraska Democrats... for a fascinating and first-hand account of the war's greatest morale-builder and military aid—radio—read "Star Spangled Radio" by Edward M. Kirby and Jack W. Harris, who lived the great story they wrote ...Sen. Joe McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, is writing a handbook on the ABC's of building a house. He will try to clear up the mysteries of government red tape and outline in simple steps how to proceed. He hopes to be able to publish the book for 79 cents a copy, and sell it to the public at cost... the Senate Small Business Committee was quick to call Paul Hoffmann to explain why European recovery contracts are going to big business. It's a repetition of what happened with army-navy contracts during the recent hostilities.

Salesmen Lose Benefits

The House Ways and Means Committee really is ringing the cash register for upper-bracket taxpayers. Not content with reducing gift and inheritance taxes, the committee now is going to the rescue of corporations in a bill revising social security taxes.

Highlight of the bill, prepared by G.O.P. Representative Dan Reed of New York, is a definition of "employe" based on the 18th Century British "master-servant" principle. Reed defines an employe as "one over whom an employer exercises such control as to make him an employe at common law."

Anyone outside this category cannot go on Social Security rolls. This automatically excludes salesmen and other semi-independent jobholders who work on commissions. More important, it relieves corporations employing them, such as insurance companies, of the burden of Social Security taxes.

To offset this big loophole, the Reed bill adds two minor employe groups to the rolls—members of charitable and other nonprofit organizations and employes of states, local and county government. However, such employes can be enrolled only on a voluntary basis.

Approximately 20,000,000 workers now are barred from Social Security benefits. An advisory council of experts headed by ex-Secretary of State Edward Stettinius recently recommended coverage for many of these ineligibles, including farm workers, domestic servants, the self-employed, the armed forces, civil servants, railroad workers and others.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce also has gone on record for liberal revisions of the law and the Republican party itself pledged Social Security improvements in its 1944 platform. However, Congressman Reed and his G.O.P. colleagues apparently consider this pledge "campaign oratory."

He'd Admired Hitler

In the past, the ambassadorship to Egypt has not been considered a lush diplomatic plum. It's significant, therefore, that a strong pro-Arab friend of Secretary of Defense James Forrestal, Stanton Griffis, is being switched from ambassador to Poland to ambassador to Egypt.

Before Pearl Harbor, Griffis made a remark at the New York home of Dr. Foster Kennedy to the effect that Hitler was one of the great men of the world. The remark created such a furor that Griffis was asked to leave the Kennedy home.

Later when Griffis was appointed ambassador to Poland, Dr. Kennedy came to Washington to testify against him before Sen. Arthur Vandenberg's foreign relations Committee. Despite this, Vandenberg put through the confirmation, perhaps because Griffis had the vigorous support of a fellow investment banker, Secretary Forrestal.

Naturally, the Poles, whose territory Hitler first invaded, weren't pleased at having a Hitler-admirer as their ambassador. So Griffis, bored with Poland, first angled to become ambassador to England, now has settled for Egypt. Pro-Arab Secretary Forrestal wants a pro-Arab ambassador in the country now spearheading the drive against Palestine.

White House Talk About President's Non-Political Trip Can Be Explained Simply

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 3—There's a rather simple explanation behind the hesitancy of the White House to concede that President Truman's westward trip is political. It has to do with the use of radio network facilities.

If, for example, Mr. Truman conceded that his trip is political, he would not be entitled to the facilities of all three major networks at the same time. These networks obey the request of the President of the United States and cancel their commercial programs when he wants the radio time to make an address on a topic related to his office and not to politics. But if the address is plainly political, whatever network finds it convenient to broadcast the speech does so and others may refrain.

Then there is the problem of right of reply. When a President of the United States gets time on all three networks, the latter do not feel that they must give equal time in rebuttal to anyone from the opposite political party. Where the address is plainly political, there would be an obligation to give equal time to some prominent Republican. The networks do not relish tieing up their facilities for political broadcasting so close to the campaign itself.

As a matter of custom, all the networks make a charge for political speeches after a certain date. Thus, after the acceptance speeches by the presidential candidates subsequent to the national conventions, all radio broadcasts by those candidates must be paid for. Otherwise the networks, being corporations, might run afoul of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act which forbids the making of contributions to political candidates or organizations.

It is similarly unlawful for any newspaper or periodical to give away display space to a political party or candidate during a campaign if the advertisement is political in nature.

The big question that arises with reference to presidential broadcasts at this time is whether they are political. The White House indignantly denies that Mr. Truman's forthcoming speeches will be political in nature. The broadcasting companies have a rule that they accept the word of a President of the United States on this point. Some Presidents are, of course, very meticulous in observing the rule and would not wish to abuse the courtesies given them. This is why President Truman, it may therefore be inferred, told the political leaders or members of the staff of the Democratic National Committee who migh have accompanied him that they had better say away.

Actually Mr. Truman does not need to make an explicitly political speech on his western trip. He has every right to visit different parts of the country and discuss public issues. If he makes a good impression, it will inure to his political benefit but this is true with respect to every act or utterance from the day a president is inaugurated.

Mr. Roosevelt used to travel around in campaign years making "inspection" trips at national defense establishments. He got radio facilities but he was subjected to much criticism because some of the trips revealed him to be conferring with political leaders and the purpose was declared by critics to be obviously political.

Mr. Truman is not likely to miss the opportunity to confer with officeholders and other persons of political influence in the Democratic Party on his journeys, but when he goes before the microphone the assumption is that he will not be partisan or refer to party politics. It will be a temptation for him to do so, as the coming trip will dovetail with the days just before the nomination is done by the Republican convention—in fact, the President will be on his trip during the first days of the Republican convention.

Mr. Truman is very likely to hew to the line on his radio speeches but he has ample opportunity to talk politics and issue statements to the press wherever he is. It is the particular function that he addresses and the kind of speech made in each instance which will determine whether, from the standpoint of the radio broadcasting companies, the speeches are "political" in the sense in which they apply the term.

Recently a network in California declined at first to broadcast a Truman speech on the ground that it was political but later agreed to broadcast a transcription. There are some legal complications that have never been cleared up as to the obligation of stations to give time for reply but so long as the stations apply their rules uniformly—making all candidates pay or giving all candidates free time—they can keep out of legal difficulties. After the conventions all presidential candidates or their political campaign committees must pay for the time used in broadcasts until after Election Day.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, June 2—In developing and proving, step by step, the complicity of Henry Wallace in the weird, esoteric political and spiritual affairs of the late Prof. Nicholas Roerich, it has been necessary now and again to review or repeat. New information is found day by day which would be almost meaningless alone but is important in a design of wild but truthful revelation. Blurred at first, the facts are now coming into focus.

I did not know at the outset that the Roerich cult had made progress in Washington but I have learned that it did. There is absolutely no doubt that President Roosevelt knew about it and about Henry Wallace's implication in it when he selected Wallace in 1940 to be vice president. Many important Democratic politicians were guilty of keeping silence when they had ominous information about the man who would become president if Roosevelt died. Mrs. James Roosevelt, the President's mother, a determined, bossy woman who didn't hesitate to use her influence, had a high regard for Roerich's press-agent in New York.

Devotees or disciples were won to the cult in very high circles. The roster of guests at the great hoax when Roosevelt "accepted" the Roerich "pact and banner of peace" and Wallace appeared in the solemn role of "protector" shows that the master promoter of the cult in New York did fine work. Admirals, generals, professors and clergymen were there. And Wallace himself thought he was on his way to immortality as a prince of peace through his serio-comic postures at the big shebang.

Now all idolators of the late Roosevelt and, indeed, even some reasonable Americans will feel that, after all, by luck, we did get past the danger without suffering the infliction of Wallace on the United States as president with "aggregate war powers." So why labor the point?

The reason for all this detail is that it shows the existence in the government, in the very White House and in the national headquarters of the ruling party of a dark, mysterious influence exerted by an adventurer from Russia whose fanatical followers called him God and who loftily accepted this status. The similarity of this atmosphere to that which pervaded the Russian court in St. Petersburg up to the fall of the dynasty in 1917 is heightened by the fact that Roerich and Rasputin, the mad monk, both were Russians. They had spiritual qualities in common, too. Both were deliberately and elaborately mysterious. Both imposed on their faithful in aloof, oracular fashion. And both were able to rob some of their followers of their reason and willpower.

Sol Bloom, the New York congressman and former chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, lived in the lamasery, and Senator Robert Wagner referred to interesting intimacies in the circle of the oriental cultist but gave no details. Bloom, an old carnival showman, probably speaks the truth when he says he took no stock in Roerich's religious or spiritual monkeyshines. But he speaks the truth, too, when he says, with elaborate flippancy, that he never let old Roerich look him in the eye. In his carnival days Sol had been around where hypnotists and mesmerists were making blameless hicks in the whistle-stops take off their pants in public. He knew that the Whammy was no mere figure of speech and that Roerich had put the eye on many a one. The spell had cost Louis L. Horch several millions of dollars, and he was a clever trader in international exchange. And now Henry Wallace fell for the old Guru and sent him off to Asia ostensibly to collect grass seed but actually to promote a political domain, an empire if possible, in Siberia, Wallace's own journeys over the same ground in 1943 were mysterious and unnecessary.

All this conspiracy has lain hidden in the dark, secret files of the State Department all these years. Shielding the guilty and deceiving the millions of Americans whose fate was at risk in these wild proceedings and crooked schemes, the bureaus of the Roosevelt kingdom have tried to deny and withhold even from history the truth about a phase of government as crazy as any in the records of the mad courts of Europe.

Put Henry Wallace under oath, call a list of witnesses whom I would name, and confront Wallace and one another of them.

We would then establish beyond doubt that Henry Wallace, the peace faker of 1948, in 1935 sent to Asia with credentials from the U. S. Department of Agriculture a Russian political adventurer who promptly kow-towed to the puppet emperor of Manchukuo, a kingdom created by the Japanese in violation of the Nine-Power Treaty and the Kellogg-Briand Pact. The god of the cult with which Henry Wallace had undeniable relations here paid tribute to the very act which finally, by a chain of events, involved the United States in the Asiatic War.

Tomorrow I will present some further letters bearing on this guru fanaticism. Read them and then say whether Roosevelt was guilty of a terrible treachery in selecting Henry Wallace to be vice president in 1940.

Was Almost Too Much

Madisonville, Tex., June 3 (AP)—The Madisonville Sidewalk Cattlemen's Association's idea of publicizing Texas by bringing an 8-year-old boy here from New York succeeded almost too well. The boy didn't want to go home. Freckle-faced Jerry Aaronson was caught just as he was about to mail a special delivery letter to his folks in Mount Vernon, N. Y., saying he would like to stay another week. So yesterday he boarded a plane for New York as scheduled. Jerry won a free tour of Texas by writing the best letter on "Why My Dad Is Wrong About Texas." His father trained at Wichita Falls, Tex., army camp.

What Happened to the Governor?

The governor of a western state, determined not to be interrupted by so many callers, instructed his Negro doorman to say to all callers, "the governor is not in."

Doorman: "But if they say they have an appointment with you, governor?"

Governor: "Just say, 'They all say that'."

All went well until the next day, when a lady called and when she was told the governor was not in she replied:

Woman: "I know better than that. You tell the governor his wife is here to take him to the theater."

Doorman: "Oh, they all say that."

The man who found a valuable pearl in his oysters in a night club the other evening almost broke even, Cincinnati, Ohio, Enquirer.

"It says here that an astrologer predicts that the world will come to an end on Christmas" announced the father dramatically to the evening family circle.

Junior: "Will it be before or after dinner, Dad?"

No one can be so welcome a guest that he will not annoy his host after three days (Plautus) . . . . After three days men grow weary of a wench, a guest, and rainy weather (Ben Franklin) . . . Visits always give pleasure, if not coming, then going (Portuguese proverb) . . . From Mencken's A New Dictionary of Quotations.

God gave man five senses — touch, taste, sight, smell and hearing. The successful man has two more, horse and common.

Box Score.

Man: "A burglar broke into my house last night when I was still at the club."

Friend: "Did he get anything?"

Man: "Yes, poor devil. He's in the hospital. My wife thought it was me."

The young man had ardently proposed to the broker's daughter, but she could not make up her mind.

She: "Will you be true to me?"

He: "I'll be true as steel."

She: "Common or preferred?"

Vaudeville Show At B'way Theatre Friday, Saturday

The Stagg McMann Trio, harmonica players, who have starred on the Paul Whiteman radio show, and have made several recent popular recordings, will be featured on the five-act vaudeville show at Reade's Broadway Theatre Friday and Saturday, June 4-5.

Three stage shows will be presented daily, in addition to the Broadway's screen attraction "Port Said" with Gloria Henry and William Bishop.

The McMann Trio, in addition to Whiteman's "On Stage America" show, have played Loew's State and Radio City Music Hall in New York city. Their most recent records for Diamond Label include "Dance of the Hours," "Listen," "Honeymoon" and "Wedding Rhumba."

Also featured will be Herman Hyde, assisted by Jean Marker, in a musical clown act entitled "Musicology." Hyde, who made his first Broadway appearance at the French Casino, and played for two years at Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe, uses one of the maddest collections of musical props in show business, including a bull-fiddle that gets excited and flaps its wings.

A circus note will be injected by Don Francisco, Spanish high wire walker, whose balancing act is entitled "Dancing On a Silver Thread." He has worked both under the big top and on vaudeville stages. Fourth act will feature Hawkins and Starr, young dancers, singers and comedians, who have played with Billy Eckstine's well-known band. Billed as "Billy Eckstine's Pals," they have just completed a long run at New York's Club Zanzibar.

Master of ceremonies and fifth act on the show will be Monty Wolfe, billed as London's "Genial Gentleman of Revelry." Wolfe was formerly married to actress Gertrude Lawrence and had many years of work in supper clubs in England, on the Continent, and most recently in the United States. This will be his last American appearance before sailing for Johannesburg, South Africa.

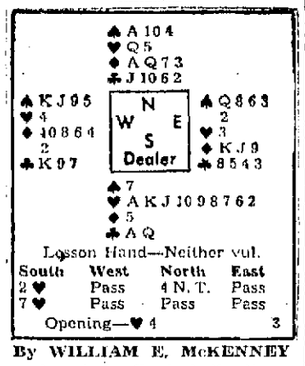
'Ace' Convention Gains Popularity



Lesson Hand—Neither vul.

South	West	North	East
2♥	Pass	4 N.T.	Pass
7♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening—♥ 4 3

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Several years ago Fred Kaplan of New York city started an ace-showing convention over two-bids that has become quite popular in the east. When partner opens with a forcing two-bid, it calls for one of the following responses:

With two or more aces, bid four no trump. With three or more kings, or the king-queen of one suit and the king of another suit, bid three no trump. This bid denies an ace but shows a trick and a half. With one ace, bid the ace. With four of partner's trump and a singleton, or a king and one, jump partner's suit. With anything less than the above you are required to make a response of two no trump.

As an example, South in today's hand opens the bidding with two hearts. North responds with four no trump, showing two aces. South now knows that the worst he can get is a possible finesse for seven-odd, so he immediately bids seven hearts.

The technique of the play also is interesting. The opening lead of the four of hearts should be won in dummy with the five-spot, the ace of diamonds cashed and a small diamond trumped. Declarer then leads the six of hearts, overtakes in dummy with the queen and ruffs the seven of diamonds. When the king of diamonds drops, declarer has no further problem as he can discard the queen of clubs on dummy's queen of diamonds.

If the king of diamonds had not dropped, declarer might find West with both the king of diamonds and king of clubs. In that case he could run off the whole heart suit and get a possible squeeze on West.

Big Mock Air Raid

Detroit, June 3 (AP)—Young pilots who defended Selfridge Field against the nation's mightiest peacetime horde of bombers were confident today they had saved their base from becoming a theoretical rubble. But the air force waited for pictures to tell the story. The mock bombing raid over the Michigan base came with scant warning. It was the biggest the air force has staged since V-J Day. Target for the 200 B-29 bombers and 150 escort planes was the strategic Selfridge Air Base, located about 30 miles from Detroit's industrial arsenal. The air force announced that bombers and the P-51 escort craft had assembled from all over the nation for the test.

Body to Arrive

CHARLES J. BRAYTON

The body of P.F.C. Charles J. Brayton, Jr., grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Brayton of 151 First avenue, who met death at the hands of Chinese Communists early this year, will arrive on the West Shore train for burial here Saturday afternoon, James M. Murphy, funeral director, has announced.

P.F.C. Brayton, who was injured twice during World War 2, was captured by the Reds in North China and died of wounds, an Associated Press dispatch disclosed February 13. Young Brayton was said to have been captured by the Reds last Christmas Day.

According to the A.P. dispatch, which was recorded from a secret Communist radio broadcast in North China, Brayton was one of five American marines captured. The report said Brayton died in a field hospital of the Peoples Liberation Army.

The young marine's father, Charles, Sr., formerly of Kingston, and a veteran of World War 1, left May 25 for California and is returning with his son's body to Fort Jay, Governors Island. Mr. Brayton is employed on Governors Island.

The body is expected to reach New York city Saturday morning and will be escorted to Fort Jay where a Mass of requiem will be offered. Following this service, the body will be shipped to Kingston.

Accompanied by a military escort, the body of young Brayton will be taken to the deceased veteran's camp on Orlando street and the end of Esopus avenue, Lincoln Park. The funeral will be held Monday at 9 a. m. and at St. Mary's Church at 10 a. m. where a solemn high Mass will be offered.

Burial will follow with full military honors in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery. The funeral will be in charge of James M. Murphy.

Visited City Last Year

The marine private visited Kingston last year while on a 90-day leave. He was in Tsingtao, China, for three years. Prior to this service, he was in Tokyo, Okinawa, Guam and in Europe.

Marshall Plan . . .

mittee has been holding its own hearings to be ready for swift action once the House passes the money bill.

While the administrative measure carried an implied promise that Congress would provide the full amount to carry out the program as drafted in that bill, there were widespread predictions at the time that the funds would be trimmed sharply.

The House committee said that since July 1, 1945, the United States has provided foreign aid totaling $18,182,000,000, much of which "has been wasted," and all of which has tended to deplete this country's resources.

No one, it said, can estimate within a billion dollars the actual needs of the participating countries.

Some of the money asked, the report said, would permit payment of "invisible items," including interest and payments of previous debts.

The committee voiced dissatisfaction with plans for large-scale mechanization of farms abroad when steel and petroleum are scarce here.

It also said it is dissatisfied with progress in the rehabilitation of Germany and called for an early end to the prosecution of minor political offenders in that conquered nation.

The committee said it cut the Greek-Turkish fund because there are large sums left from previous appropriations for those countries and because of reports that guerrilla bands "would be substantially if not completely liquidated by the end of this summer."

The bill climaxed weeks of closed-door hearings during which the committee heard Paul G. Hoffman, E.C.A. administrator, estimate the four-year cost of the foreign-aid program at from $13,000,000,000 to $18,000,000,000.

Hoffman told the committee he regards the program as "a war to win the peace" and as good business for America rather than charity for Europe.

C. of C. Would Like List of Local Events

The Kingston Chamber of Commerce invites all organizations to list community events sponsored by them at their office in the Governor Clinton Hotel. Likewise, any organizations planning community events are invited to call the Chamber of Commerce to check with the calendar of community events to avoid conflicts. The phone number is Kingston 5100.

This is just another community service performed by the Chamber of Commerce. Too frequently major events conflict with each other. This service is available to county organizations as well as those within the city. It is suggested that as all major events are scheduled that a card be sent to the Chamber of Commerce or if more convenient a phone call can be made. Some one person should be delegated to give this information to the Chamber of Commerce.

Quite often persons from out-of-town inquire of coming events. These can only be answered if the necessary information has been received by the Chamber of Commerce.

Ellenville Couple Sues for $100,000

Operation Is Basis for State Supreme Court Case; Disgrace Claimed

New York, June 3 (AP)—A man and wife are suing a doctor for $100,000, charging that a sterilization operation on the husband failed to work and that persons who knew it had been performed suspected the wife of adultery when a child was born.

The Ellenville, N. Y., couple, Jack Berman, 38, and his wife, Esther, contend in their State Supreme Court action that failure of the operation had caused them "humiliation, shame and disgrace."

On behalf of Mrs. Berman, the suit, filed yesterday, stated:

"Members of the family who were informed and believed that my husband had become sterile as a result of the operation, believed that my child was illegitimate and born out of wedlock, and that I had been guilty of adultery."

The Bermans charged that Dr. Emanuel Donheiser, Manhattan physician, was "careless and negligent" in performing the operation.

The action related that Berman went to Dr. Donheiser after the couple's family physician advised Mrs. Berman that it was of "the utmost importance to my well-being that I should not again become pregnant," because "my life and mental stability would be endangered."

Surgery was performed on Oct. 26, 1945, the suit set forth, adding that "afterwards we were advised that it was entirely safe for us to engage in intercourse, and that under no circumstances could I become pregnant."

On Oct. 9, 1946, a daughter, Iris, was born to Mrs. Berman and as a result she "sustained serious and permanent injuries, and suffered excruciating pain and agony," the suit held.

Dr. Donheiser filed a general denial except to say that " I did perform an operation on the duct of plaintiff, Jack Berman, in order to effect sterilization."

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, June 3—Mrs. Michael Gorman, Brooklyn woman who formerly was a regular summer visitor to Shokan, came up to Olive Bridge Tuesday for a vacation stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Spencer of Bridgeport, Conn., spent the holiday at their north boulevard bungalow.

Elizabeth Avery, widow of Abram Avery, who died Sunday in Schenectaday, was a resident of Brown's Station previous to waterworks days, and later she and her husband made their home in Shokan for several years. Mrs. Avery is believed to have been the last of an Olive Civil War veteran, save Mrs. Robert Secor, 96-year old resident of the Ashokan section.

Miss Ruth Chapman of New York has been spending a vacation at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Robert Hartye. Miss Chapman hopes to come here again for the summer months.

Looking Backward

Friday, June 3, 1910: John Burroughs, West Park author and naturalist who once taught school in Olive, has received an invitation from Thomas A. Edison to accompany the great inventor on an auto tour of Europe...Freeman display ad. of John V. Perry's grocery, 113 Clinton avenue, includes the following price quotations: Best dairy butter, 10-lb. pails, 31 cents lb.; salmon, three cans for 25 cents; potatoes, 15 cents peck, and large pineapples, three for 25 cents. Mr. Perry is a son of David and Rebecca (Winchell) Perry whose old farm home lay along the mountain side near Shokan...Leibhardt; Children's Day practice has commenced with Lillian E. Brown and Mrs. L. E. Lawrence training the children... Hannah Ryan of Claryville is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Wagner.

Robert Adsit, Norman North, Arthur Bush and Donald North comprised a group of patriotic young men who cleaned up and decorated the Shokan and Ashokan servicemen's tablet and grounds in the village center.

Recent guests at the Longyear House included: Mr. and Mrs. J. Stocksenger of Astoria, L. I., Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Walter of Flushing and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shaw and daughter, Edith. Mr. Shaw is a former New York city water commissioner. His name is inscribed on the stone tower which was erected in waterworks days on Winchell Hill near the main Ashokan dam.

Glenford Gus says he came very close to losing his freedom the other night because of his girl friend's limited vocabulary. Gus remarked that his grandmother left a "large progeny," whereupon the sweet young thing piped up, "And of course you want me to share in it!"

Men of Ulster

Hiram Whitney, third son of Eli and Catherine (Longyear) Whitney, was born 1828, in the town of Shandaken. His father had come to the upper Esopus Valley from Connecticut and his mother was descended from the town's earliest settlers. Mr. Whitney in his first business venture bought out the tannery buildings of Eliakim Sherill, renting them to Bushnell & Patchin. He established a gristmill in 1863, operated a store as early as 1864 and also carried on a general lumber business for many years. In 1870 he commenced the manufacture of cane and wood-seat chairs at what was then known as Shandaken Center. This business grew until, in 1880, he was employing a large number of men and women and turning out 6,000 chairs a week for markets at home and abroad. His realty holdings in the town of Shandaken and Lexington totaled 6,000 acres, while the factory kept in operation his two steam sawmills and used lumber from five others. Mr. Whitney was a Republican in politics. He was married, Oct. 15, 1848, to Anna Maria Fredenbergh of Shandaken and their children were: Jerry S., bookkeeper for his father; Josephine D., who married N. L. DeGraff, a shipper at the factory; Marion, who worked in the plant; Eliakim S., in charge of the Whitney general store, and Addie, wife of Frank W. Lament, local U. & D. R. R. station agent.

Jobs for Elderly Workers Backed by Industry, He Says

Albany, N. Y., June 3 (AP)—Senator Thomas C. Desmond announced today what he termed "industry's own program" to increase job opportunities for elderly persons.

The Newburgh Republican, chairman of the joint legislative committee on problems of the aging, said the recommendations of industrialists presented "a practical basis for consideration by the state."

The five-point program grew out of a committee survey which, Desmond added, also showed that elderly workers were reluctant to leave jobs they obtained during World War Two.

Desmond said employers had submitted these recommendations during the committee survey of concerns employing 525,000 workers:

1. An industry-government educational program to inform employers of elderly workers' capabilities.
2. A job classification survey to determine positions suitable for aged workers.
3. A plan to set aside certain jobs for elderly persons.
4. An incentive system for employers who hire older workers, such as a reduction in workmen's compensation rates.
5. A joint industry-labor program to work out problems in employment of the elderly.

Desmond said that for many older persons "useful work means life and independence, but retirement may mean charity and early death."

Cruise Aboard Naval Vessel Very Interesting

The chairman of the naval portion of the Memorial Day Celebration announces that three members of the committee made a highly interesting cruise aboard the U. S. Navy Escort Control Ship PCE (E) 877 from Kingston to Pier 26 Hudson river. The ships shoved off at 8:30 a. m. and arrived at Pier 26 Hudson river, at 1:30 p. m. The ships saluted the U. S. Military Academy at West Point when passing this institution, and then saluted several other vessels which were passed en route.

The members of the committee who rode the ships to New York were Major Theodore R. Lee, Thomas Bohan, former county commander, American Legion, and Lt. Commander Herman E. Gottfried. They reported that both the breakfast and lunch aboard ship were excellent and they were almost ready to join up in the Navy.

The committee wishes to express its deep appreciation to Captain Sadler and Captain Bohannon for their courtesy and cooperation in making these fine ships available for inspection and also extending the visiting hours from 5 p. m to 9 p. m. to accommodate the crowds.

In addition, the committee wishes to thank Mr. Newcomb for making the dock available; Bob Teetsel in making the exhibition of "Sharkey" the Seal available to the members of the crew; and last but not least, Tony Alecca for his efforts in entertaining the crews of both ships.

New Flood Grows

the Memorial Day disaster of Vanport.

Top Red Cross executives here said they believed "few, if any" of the war housing project's 18,700 residents were lost when a dike cracked and Columbia waters washed away the city that had been Oregon's second largest. Known dead so far, excluding Vanport, total 23.

Federal and state agencies have coordinated plans and their massive reconstructive weight has turned to the task of rehabilitation for some 59,000 persons and repairing damage running into untotaled millions—perhaps $100,000,000.

The time of greatest suffering is over in the Portland area—the hardest hit. Over for the moment—until the new crest mounting upriver plunges down through the rock walls of the mid-Columbia gorge.

How bad could the new one be? Even veteran U. S. River Forecaster Elmer Fisher wouldn't make a prediction.

But if the new crest rises as high as the one now running out to sea, this was his grim warning:

"Portland and Vancouver, look out!"

Portland and Vancouver—across the Columbia—are at the confluence of the great river and the Williamette.

Weather Is Dangerous

One thing was sure—the weather is against the flood-weary people.

Mid-summer temperatures melt snowpacks in the upper reaches too fast. Thundershowers to dump new water into the watersheds of eastern Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

Fisher said the Snake river, main Columbia tributary, was on the rise. So was the Yakima river in Washington. And overflow from Grand Coulee on the upper Columbia has increased the past four days.

Any new flood will add to the cost of reconstruction that already is in the planning stages for the four-state region.

Lt. Gen Raymond A. Wheeler, chief of U. S. army engineers, promised adequate funds to repair all Columbia basin levees. He arrived here yesterday from Washington. Senators and representatives from the region asked Congress yesterday to appropriate $75,000,000 for reconstruction of public works. President Truman requested $600,000 for emergency relief.

Pressure eased on Portland's waterfront. The swollen Williamette still licked into Union Station, the city's only rail terminal, and thinly covered rail yards and some other industrial areas. The river was receding slightly.

In British Columbia, however, the Columbia flood began seeping into the basements in the business district of Trail, a smelter city. Some residential areas also were affected.

Marriage Is Expected

Lausanne, Switzerland, June 3 (AP)—An aide says former King Mihai probably will marry Princess Anne late next week in Athens. The aide, Maj. Macques Vergotti, said today the exact date will depends on flying weather. Mihai plans to fly Anne from Geneva to Greece. Princess Anne is in Copenhagen, but is expected in Switzerland within two or three days. The ceremony, in the rites of the Greek orthodox church, is planned for the royal palace at Athens. It was originally planned for next Saturday.

Mistletoe was known to the Druids as "all-heal." They regarded the parasite as a cure for all diseases.

Entertain Guests

Woodstock, June 3 Helen and Alf Evers, internationally known writers of children's books, greeted more than 100 guests at their Lewis Hollow home last Saturday. Each year when the white wisteria adorning the Evers' lovely old house is in full bloom, they entertain their friends. The exquisite white wisteria made a most appropriate background for the gay and colorful costumes worn by the ladies. Calicos were very much in evidence as were the new bustle back, pantalette and petticoat styles.

Newfoundlanders Vote

St. John's, Nfld., June 3 (AP)—Residents of this rocky island country, Britain's oldest, vote today to decide Newfoundland's future. After a hot political campaign which at times reached the pitch of a real war of words, Newfoundlanders are called upon to make a choice among three alternatives: 1. Shall Newfoundland join Canada as the tenth dominion's tenth province? 2. Shall it return to independent status, with responsible government, such as it had before 1934? 3. Shall it remain as is, with a commission form of government under a governor appointed by the British crown?

Candle Clock

A candle clock, consisting of candles marked off in inch sections, was devised by Alfred the Great, of England. Each candle burned four hours.

GibbExplainsHow Band Music Ties Up With Preaching

With the return of veterans, the Kingston Salvation Army Brass Band has been reorganized. Seven veterans of the army and navy are now playing instruments in the local band. The band includes four cornets, two altos, one baritone, one euphonium, two trombones, one bass horn and one bass drum. Captain George Gibb, who is acting as band leader, says he expects the band to number about 20 pieces by fall.

The Kingston Band is just one small band in thousands of Salvation Army bands throughout the world which have more than 50,000 members operating in 97 countries and colonies throughout the world, according to Captain Gibb. Almost 85,000 songsters are listed by the Salvation Army whose use of music as an integral part of its evangelistic work is one of the distinguishing features of the organization.

Not many people today know that the use of brass music to help preach the gospel originated with General William Booth, who founded The Salvation Army 80 years ago. The idea was suggested to William Booth as a result of an incident in Salisbury, England, in 1878. Salvationists appearing for the first time were roughly handled by the street rowdies.

William Fry, an itinerant builder, witnessed this scene and decided to help the Salvationists. He and his two sons played the cornet, his wife played the violin. The other Frys, hastily summoned, took their stand by the Army, and the mob was quickly quieted.

When William Booth heard of this, he asked the Frys to come to London. At his request, they formed the first evangelical band and toured England. The first Corps band was organized in 1879 and others followed. Brass bands had now become an integral part of The Salvation Army.

Salvation Army bands play only music published by the organization, and composed or arranged by Salvationists, who donate their compositions and arrangements to the Army without payment. All music submitted for publication must be played before, and passed by, a special music board in London, where the international headquarters of the organization is located.

Today, the various band journals published by The Salvation Army contain more than 1,500 marches or selections. The Band Tune Book contains more than 400 tunes which are used chiefly for congregation singing.

Salvation Army bandsmen, who serve without pay, come from all walks of life and are artists, secretaries, salesmen, carpenters, clerks, decorators, builders, printers.

Many distinguished musicians in the United States, including members of many name bands and orchestras, started their careers as members of Salvation Army bands.

Night Student Gets Highest College Mark

New York, June 3 (AP)—A 41-year-old business man who entered college for "a diversion" has achieved the highest scholastic average in the history of his school.

The man, Joseph J. Koenig, of Jersey City, N. J., will be graduated Summa Cum Laude next Wednesday from the New York University School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance.

In six years as a night student he accumulated 122 points of grade A credit and six B points. He will receive a bachelor of science degree.

"My decision to enroll at the university," Koenig said yesterday, "was not based on any serious aims. I just felt I needed somewhat of a diversion from my everyday life and a college education seemed to fill the bill."

He ascribed his record to an "intense interest in the course of study—nothing more."

He plans to enter the university's Graduate School of Arts and Science this summer to work for his master's degree.

Pine Knoll Camp Has 75 Per Cent Of Its Enrollment

Pine Knoll Y.M.C.A. Day Camp at DeWitt Lake has 75 percent of its 1948 enrollment, and will open camp on June 28 and continue for a six-week period.

Lou Schafer, "Y" Day Camp director, is making daily trips to camp and is preparing many new pieces of equipment for the campers. A new spot is now set for volleyball and badminton. New ping pong tables just arrived and Mr. Schafer is also making two new dart baseball games, which should be one of the biggest attractions at camp.

The many new ideas in the latest plastic work in the crafts for the campers in both camps will prove most interesting. There also is a new electric jig saw, for special craft work. The whittling class is under the direction of John Vertetis, a student at Cortland Normal School. A specialty in this craft will be the carving and painting of animals, along with the making of casting plugs for fishing.

Mr. Schafer is calling a special get-to-gether for all camp counsellors and senior and junior leaders, at his home at 204 West Chestnut street for Wednesday night, June 16 at 7:30 o'clock. All counsellors and leaders are instructed in camp craft in its many forms. The working out of the camp program is explained in detail, with special emphasis being placed on the life saving and water safety angle. Roll call at the water front is taken at short intervals, because the campers have to mix with the other bathers at the lake.

Many campers of last season are still to be heard from and Mr. Schafer says, that camp is fast filling, and no boy or girl who has been regular in camp attendance should be held out, but if they don't get their registration in soon, camp will be filled by others. Applications are coming in daily.

The awards were presented to Vernon E. Shepherd, Central Hudson advertising manager, at the annual meeting of the association held at Cleveland May 27 and 28.

The company received one award in the Special Booklets Class and two awards in the Public Relations Newspaper Advertising Class. One hundred and seventy-five utility companies from the United States, with some 2,200 entries in 17 advertising classifications, competed for the certificates. The 1948 contest embraced newspaper, radio, motion picture and window display advertising, annual reports and employe publications.

The Better Copy Contest, the oldest national advertising competition in existence today, was originated for the purpose of improving public utilities advertising. This year's competition was held to determine and give recognition to the best advertising by the nation's public utility companies covering the period from January 1, 1946, to December 31, 1947.

New York Architect Buys Ceramic Animal of Walters

Woodstock, June 3 — "Little Lost Week End," a fascinating ceramic animal created by Carl Walters and exhibited in the Art Gallery last summer, has been purchased by Philip Goodwin, well-known architect in New York city. Since this original purchase, Mr. Goodwin has acquired five other Walters' pieces from various exhibits for his collection.

Many will remember the numerous suggestions offered by many prominent artists when Walters exhibited the animal in the gallery but Henry Mattson's title was accepted and the little animal was introduced as such in these columns.

Assists With Film

Woodstock, June 3—Doris Lee made a hurried trip to Hollywood last fall to do five gouaches as the introduction to "The Pirate," then in production. This picture is now being shown at the Radio City Music Hall and opens with reproductions of Doris' work depicting the progress of "The Pirate" and includes, The Pirate Looking For His Prey, Sighting The Prey, Sea Battle, The Loot, and Going Ashore to The Pirate's Rendevous for Celebration. The inspiration for this work Doris said was the legend of a pirate who lived in the 1850's. The Caribbean Sea was the locale of scenes for the gouaches, and was chosen because Doris has lived near and sailed in these waters. The artist admitted to knowing little about rigging and sails, and stated that she was more interested in the spirit of the pirate than the technicalities.

Painting Is Sold

Woodstock, June 3—"Chicken Crowd," a painting by Pietra Cubot, has been sold to Miss Adele Rudolph, Philadelphia. This painting was selected last summer by Homer St. Gaudens for exhibition in the Carnegie Annual.

Would Keep Death Penalty

London, June 3 (AP)—A proposal to abolish the death penalty in England has hit a rock in the House of Lords, and legislative experts predicted today the measure will flounder. The lords, by vote of 181 to 98, balked last night at the proposal already approved by the House of Commons which would eliminate the death penalty for a test period of five years for all crimes except high treason and piracy.

Loves His Enemy?

Yokohama, June 3 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Isamu Yokoyama today told a U. S. Eighth Army war crimes commission "I love people and I also love my enemy . . . in my life I have not killed a bird or animal." He is accused of participation in the vivisection deaths of eight B-29 crewmen.

TEMPT WITH COCONUT KISSES

Coconut kisses and fresh strawberries—a June delight.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Fresh strawberries with powdered sugar and a dish of coconut macaroons—there's a summer idyl for anyone. Here are three variations on the theme of "kisses."

Coconut Kisses
(Makes about 30)

Two-thirds cup sweetened condensed milk, 3 cups (½ pound) shredded coconut, 1 teaspoon vanilla (optional).

Mix sweetened condensed milk and coconut. Add vanilla, if desired. Drop from teaspoon onto greased baking sheet, about 1 inch apart. Decorate with raisins, walnuts, or cherries, if desired. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 10 minutes or until delicately brown. Remove from pan at once.

Coffee Coconut Meringue
(Makes 2½ dozen meringues)

One-quarter teaspoon salt, 2 egg whites, 1 tablespoon soluble coffee, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup shredded coconut, ¼ teaspoon vanilla.

Add salt to egg whites and beat until foamy throughout. Mix soluble coffee and sugar together and add to egg whites, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended. WEDDING RECEPTION NOT A CONCERT

The following letter brings me to task for previous advice: "We noted in your column that you said solos, duets, etc., are not suitable at a wedding reception. The reception with which I'm concerned may be an exception, because of the families involved. They are both very musical. They feel at the reception their guests would enjoy listening to musical renditions and wondered what you thought. Would these be announced and by whom? Also, the families abhor smoke smell. Many of the guests might smoke as a matter of course, unless somehow told not to do so. How can this be done inoffensively but effectively?"

I am sorry to have to say that a wedding reception and concert should not be the same. At a wedding reception the accent is on conversation and very often dancing. A concert, on the other hand, is listened to seriously and this would be impossible at a wedding reception. You might ask special music lovers to remain, after the bride and groom and many of the guests have taken their departure, and enjoy an especial hour of music. As for your dislike of smoking, I don't know how you can control this further than having no cigars or cigarettes passed. But to say, "Don't smoke" to guests who do cannot be offered as advice to would-be courteous hosts.

Father Has Two Names

Dear Mrs. Post: My father always has called himself by a first name which legally is not his own. On legal papers and such matters he signs his real name, which he dislikes intensely, but otherwise he never uses it. In connection with my engagement announcement in the papers and my wedding invitations, I think his real name should be used; he hopes not. He says it would be ridiculous because many people wouldn't even know who the other name signified. We need help!

Answer: Your father is right. The wedding notices can be considered from a social rather than a legal angle. I am taking it for granted that the name he likes is a man's name and not a nickname such as Red, Skinny or Buster.

Menu Cards at Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me how customary it is at a sit-down wedding breakfast to place small menu cards on each table?

Answer: This is done only at a reception that is extremely formal and when the menu comprises several courses.

Many people want to know what is included in the bride's trousseau. Mrs. Post gives a list for the personal trousseau and also a list of linens for the hope chest in her leaflet, E-5. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. 'Big Eye' Telescope Will Be Dedicated

Palomar Mountain, Calif., June 3 (AP)—Scientists dedicate the "big eye" today.

It's the 200-inch telescope atop Palomar Mountain through which they soon will peer into outer space twice as far as ever before.

The world's largest piece of glass will enable astronomers to see 1,000,000,000 light years into space. Translated into miles the distance is 6,000,000,000,000,000,000,000.

The giant telescope-mirror was cast 12 years ago at Corning Glass Works, Corning, N. Y.

Special tribute to the late Dr. George Ellery Hale, former director of Mount Wilson Observatory, has been arranged for this afternoon's dedication of the $6,500,000 project of which he was the guiding spirit.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Camp Wendy Plans

A three day hiking trip over Minnewaska mountain is one of the special activities planned for the senior unit at Camp Wendy this summer. Members of the unit will be both girls 14 years of age and others who will attend high school, grades 9 through 12, starting this fall. Junior and senior life saving courses may be taken and special attention will be given to learning to use the boats and canoes.

Camp Wendy will have a six-week season this year according to the latest report of the camp committee. The single week at the end of the season has been cancelled. In its place girls may register for either the week of July 4 through 11 or 11 through 17. All those who register for the seventh week have been contacted to arrange change of dates. Period one, July 4 to 17, will accommodate two week campers also.

Troop Licensing

Fourteen leaders began the troop licensing course at the girl scout headquarters recently. Upon completion of course, the leaders will be qualified to take their troops to Camp Wendy and other approved sites throughout the county starting in the fall.

Those attending were Miss Betsy Beam, Miss Elsie Steilen, Mrs. Betty Ziegler and Mrs. Evelyn Sheffield from Ellenville; Miss Helen Oakley and Miss Elsie Brothers from Napanoch; Miss Sally Clarke, Milton; Mrs. Nellie DuBois, Mrs. Louisa Brach from Wallkill; Mrs. Edward Scully, Mrs. Elting Elsworth and Mrs. Ronald Latz, Port Ewen; Mrs. Rufus Whitney and Mrs. Bernhardt Kramer from Kingston.

The course was given by Mrs. Casper Souers, volunteer trainer, and Miss Hazel Metcalf, executive.

Colonials Win Opener at Stadium Behind 'Whitey' Tulacz, 8-2

Van Herpe Cracks First Homer; Gentile, Price Get Three Hits

Semi-pro baseball of the variety that made Kingston a pre-war independent baseball citadel returned to municipal stadium last night where more than 800 fans saw the Colonials drub the highly touted Jersey City Otto Macks, 8 to 2, with a display of extra base power that confirmed pre-season predictions.

While veteran Whitey Tulacz of Poughkeepsie was spinning a leisurely 9-hitter, the Colonials unloaded an 11-bit barrage that included three triples and a home run. This was considered significant because a fair to middling southpaw, Sunny Hamlin, was operating for the Otto Macks and the Colonial batting power runs to the left side.

Buddy Van Herpe, bigger and stronger than during pre-war days when he was something of a "boy wonder" with the Recreations, crashed the first home run of the season, a towering smash that rolled to the 421 marker in right center. It came in the second inning with two aboard.

Johnny Gentile, the stellar second sacker, had his trouble in the field with two boots, but unloaded a triple and two singles and scored four times while fans gasped in astonishment. Fred Price, the long ball hitter, connected for a triple and two singles in the cleanup role.

The six Colonial errors were negligible insofar as damage was concerned and resulted largely to bad timing on double play setups and outfield flies when the players got their signals mixed. In between, the Colonial inner quartet of Charlie Francello, Van Herpe, Gentile and Price.

Ristau Triples

The game itself was settled early. Gentile's walk, a sacrifice by Van Herpe and Steve Ristau's triple to right center quickly accounted for a run. Price promptly slashed a single past short to make it 2-0.

Van Herpe unloaded his circuit clout behind singles by Tom Corrigan and Gentile in the second for a 5-0 Colonial lead. Singles by Gentile and Van Herpe and an infield out picked up a run in the fourth.

Price got a triple to open the seventh when the Jersey right and center fielders collided going after his liner and scored on Charlie Francello's single to right center. The final marker in the eighth was the result of Gentile's booming triple to right center and Ristau's infield out.

Swedler's double and Charlie Francello's overthrow in the fourth took the Otto Macks out of the whitewash class. In the next frame they put together hits by Chiecuto and Andes and a wild throw by Tulacz for their second run.

Colonial Capers

Alderman-at-Large Charles J. "Jimmy" Turck did the honors in the first-ball ceremony substituting for Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk who was called out of town. . . . Billy Schaffrick Jr., of "Pop" Fuhrman's Boys' Club presented Manager Joe Hoffman with the first baseball of the season in a pre-game ceremony. . . . The Colonial players massed near first base for introductions before the game. . . . Manager Joe Hoffman was mighty happy about the way his lefty swingers attacked Hamlin, a good southpaw. . . . That batting order should be murder against rightlies. . . . The robust hitting of Buddy Van Herpe and Johnny Van Herpe and Johnny Gentile was the opening night surprise. . . . Van Herpe won a $5 cash prize offered by Alderman Jimmy Martin and a Reynolds ball pen offered by Frank Cohen of Frank's Sport Shop. . . . The Colonial fielding was sharp and spectacular in spots. . . . Charlie Francello looked like a Grade A infielder last night and he spanked the ball with authority on three trips to the plate. . . . Tom Heneberry and Bill Olen missed the opener because of injuries. . . . Tulacz is a cutie, didn't walk a man but yielded three hits on soft jobs to the plate. . . Rudy Antonetz, 1947 Kingston Dodger was an onlooker. . . . He is recovering from a broken collar bone. . . . At present he is with the Zanesville, Ohio club. . . . Steffins, centerfielder and Rienzo, right fielder, jarred each other going after Price's fly in the seventh. . . . The latter is a far better fielder than Joe Wahl and will hit with Joe. . . The enlarged concession operated by Jake and Pat Senor did a booming business and had the sold out signs handing out before the game ended. . . . Steve Ristau opened the season with a bang—a tremendous triple to right center. . . . The Otto Macks got to Tulacz for at least one hit in eight of the nine innings. . . . The crack Paterson Red Sox led by Charley Jamieson, former Cleveland Indian star, come into the stadium Saturday night at 8:45.

Major League Roundup

By The Associated Press

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

Slowly but surely the Brooklyn Dodgers are climbing back into the National League pennant race.

The defending champions, after a disastrous start that found them in and out of last place, are in sixth place today, only five games behind the pace-setting New York Giants and two games out of the first division.

Manager Leo Durocher's pitching staff, which took plenty of beating in the early going, has suddenly righted itself with Big Ralph Branca, Preacher Roe and Joe Hatten leading the way.

In the Dodgers' first 31 games the starting Brooklyn pitchr managed to finish only seven times. In the last seven starts Durocher's opening selection has gone the distance five times. During the streak the Dodgers have won five games, lost one and tied on.

Hatten Tames Cards

Hatten went the route for the second time this season last night, pitching the Brooks to a 5-3 victory over the fading Cardinals in a night game at St. Louis. It was the Dodgers' first victory in five meetings with the Cards, who now have lost six straight.

By losing, the Cards dropped a game and a half behind the Giants who trampled the Reds, 7-4, in a day game at Cincinnati.

Larry Jansen, star Giant right-hander, scattered 11 Red hits in posting his sixth win of the year. Jansen helped his own cause, driving in three runs on two singles.

The third place Pittsburgh Pirates also lost ground, falling two games behind the Giants as they bowed, 5-1, to the Boston Braves in a night game at Pittsburgh. Johnny Sain held the Pirates to three safeties, one of which was Ralph Kiner's 12th home run of the year in the ninth inning.

In the American League the Cleveland Indians retained their slim first place margin over the Philadelphia Athletics. The Indians dropped a 2-1 five hit decision to Rae Scarborough and the Washington Senators, but remained seven percentage points ahead of the A's as the Athletics also lost, 7-3 to the Chicago White Sox.

Bob Lemon, who entered the night game unscored on in 25 straight innings, went the route for Cleveland. It was his third loss as against seven wins.

The last place White Sox raked Bill Dietrich and Nelson Potter for 11 hits in their after dark struggle in Philadelphia while Joe Haynes halted the A's on nine safeties in coasting to his fourth victory.

Browns Pass Bengals

St. Louis' surprising Browns moved over the Detroit Tigers into fourth place as a result of their 3-1 night game triumph over the Red Sox in Boston.

Fred Sanford checked the Sox on seven blows while his mates collected nine off Lefty Mel Parnell.

The Tigers, who now trail the Browns by a game, lost a 1-0 decision to the Yankees in a day game at New York.

In the only other day game, the Chicago Cubs nosed out the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-1 in 12 innings at Chicago.

Immaculate Conception Routs St. Joseph's, 28-4

The Immaculate Conception softball squad opened the Catholic A.A. season by routing St. Joseph's, 28 to 4, at Hasbrouck Park.

Jake Carter and McCardle formed the winning battery, with Al Freer and Simonety working for the losers.

Murphy and Long cracked five hits apiece for the winners, with three singles, a double and triple. Ed Lucas whacked a pair of doubles and singles.

Score by innings:

• Bagatelles:

Two of the finest athletes of the modern DUSO era are attracting big black headlines these days, yet both are of the mould that don't let printers ink go to their heads. We mean, of course, Newburgh Free Academy's gifted miler, Art Nelbach, Jr., and Kingston's pitching wizard, Clark Mains.

Mains' historic 4-2 decision over Poughkeepsie Tuesday halted an unbelievable stranglehold that Blue baseball squads have had on Kingston since 1947. Sam Kalloch claimed 23 straight wins. We presume, and so does everyone else, that Sad Sam, the Indian man, included two "walkoff" victories in that skein.

• An Old Habit With Kalloch:

Sam twice pulled his team off the field at the Athletic Field during Coach Cliff Miller's regime. On one occasion he refused to accept a decision by Elmer Steele, a Poughkeepsie arbiter on a ground rule covering overthrows. We don't recall the other incident which involved Bill "Pie" Murphy of Kingston. In both cases the truculent Kalloch apparently was forgiven. In any event, Poughkeepsie continued to bob up on Kingston baseball schedules.

Kalloch was within an eyelash of pulling a Gromyko Tuesday afternoon but the rule book convinced him. It required a few minutes to dig up a rule book and in the interim the argument waived hot and heavy, to turn a phrase. Kalloch was furious, Burke was equally furious and Umpire Schwab screamed as loud as the two. The only weakness in Schwab's armor was that he was caught without a rule book in his possession. Tsk! Tsk!

• About Young Mister Mains:

Getting back to young Mains, he has given up only seven hits and a single run in four DUSO League games. For five innings, he blew down Poughkeepsie's best batters and tied up Weglinski and Charter—the Blue sluggers—in the proverbial knots, extending his hitless streak to 12 2/3 innings. Suddenly his control went haywire. He walked three and hit three, an indecent display of generosity for a young man who is noted for control. Yet he survived two turbulent innings, held off the Blues with the bases loaded and no outs and achieved a victory Kingston had been waiting for since 1937.

Young Mains is 18 years old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mains of Port Ewen, N. Y. Mr. Mains, a bank teller with the Kingston Trust Company, was a pretty good ball player in his own right.

Mains is a second cousin of Tommy Maines, one of Kingston High's all-time athletic greats. The difference in spelling of the names was purely a family whim. The basic German name was Mainz. Tommy's ancestors Americanized it with Maines, Clark's progenitors just spelled it Mains. We trust this clears up a huge mystery.

• Newburgh's Great Miler:

Newburgh's Art Nelbach has stirred the DUSO track world just as did Kingston's Eddie McCardle, now at Seton Hall.

Nelbach set an all-time DUSO mile record of 4:28.9 in the DUSO track meet last Saturday in Newburgh. According to Dan Ferris, of the National A.A.U., this is the second fastest high school mile run in the country this year. It shattered a 14-year old DUSO mark of 4:41.4 set by Al Schmidt of Newburgh in 1934.

Nelbach's romp also eclipsed the time of 4:32 which Newburgh's Buck Eyle ran back in 1922 during the New York state championships at Syracuse. Eyle's standard was a state record for years. Nelbach, however, failed to equal the state record of 4:24.8 which was established in 1946 by Dianetti of East Rochester. So far as New York State Public High School records show, Dianetti still holds the mile record.

MULLIGAN MIKE SAYS: If, as one diplomat has said, there is really no cold war, it's certainly a pretty shivery pace we're having, to say the least.

Bush Hurls Four-Hitter as Chezzies Win, 6-1

Joe Stanton of High Falls received a letter for his playing on the Champlain College 1948 varsity baseball team.

Stanton, a second year student at the Associated College, was the regular pitcher for the Bluejay nine. He is expected to appear in the local City Baseball League.

Win Sends Club Into First Place Tie With Morgan's

Big Bob Bush, veteran City League pitcher, made his 1948 debut with the Chez Emile nine at the Athletic Field Wednesday night and after seven innings of baseball, the Stauble Bakery club felt quite put out that Bush had not postponed his debut another week or so. The big righthander handcuffed the previously unbeaten Bakery on four hits as he coursed up a 6 to 1 victory.

The Chezzies gained a particularly sweet victory by drubbing Bill Goff, the Saugerties importation, with his first league setback. Goff had spun a no-hitter last week. Last night he was cuffed for nine hits.

Goff was the victim of a costly error in the first frame when Crosby laced a hard grounder through Stoll's legs at second and by the time the ball was relayed back into the infield, Crosby had dented home with the first run. Stauble's pushed their only run across in the second on a double by Brown and Felipe's one-baser.

Two big frames, the third and seventh, decided the outcome, however. Three walks, an error and a double by Schrowang netted the Chezzies three runs in the third. The winners got to Goff in the seventh when Hasbrouck, Sickler, Fautz and McElrath rapped out singles to add two more markers.

Goff Whiffs 10

Goff's pitching was not as bad as the final outcome appears. Stoll's error in the first got the young hurler off to a bad start and the misplay by Lucas in the third jammed the works. Goff struck out 10 last night and issued four walks. Bob Bush sent nine batters back to the dugout via the strikeout route. He gave up five free tickets to first.

Tonight's Game

Frank's Sport and Boulevard Gulf will battle it out tonight at the Smith avenue ballpark. Game time is 6:15 p. m.

Printers Strike In Cortland for High Week's Pay

Cortland, N. Y., June 3 (AP)—The Cortland Standard, struck yesterday by its typographical workers, reported that the day's edition of the newspaper rolled 15 minutes ahead of schedule.

Office employes pitched in when the 25 news and commercial compositors employed by the Cortland Standard Printing Company failed to report. The A.F.L. International Typographical Union local is demanding higher wages.

The office workers manned special typewriter keyboards fitted over linotype machines. Some typewritten copy also was photoengraved at a commercial engraving plant.

The afternoon newspaper, this city's only daily, never has missed a regular publication since it was established in 1892.

The Cortland Standard Printing Company's contract with the I.T.U. expired May 12, but negotiations continued until Tuesday.

The union, asking $65 for 37½ hours for news compositors, now get $52.20 for 40 hours, Robert C. Kirkpatrick, international representative said. Commercial compositors seek $62 for 40 hours, compared to the present $55.20 for 40 hours.

Company President E. H. Clark said the firm had offered news compositors a boost of seven cents an hour for 42 2/3 hours, or an average of $69 a week. In the job printing department, the company sought continuation of the average 44-hour weekly pay of $63.48, he said.

and Lebanon have been engaged against the Palestine Jews.

Both Egypt and Israel last night reported fighting in the region of Negba, 30 miles southeast of Tel Aviv in territory claimed by Israel on the northern edge of the Negeb (Southern Desert).

A Jewish communique said an Egyptian attack upon Negba with artillery, armor and infantry was beaten off by Jewish artillery.

The defense ministry in Cairo said Egyptian ground forces occupied many positions in the Negba region and held them in the strongest Jewish counterattack yet male in the southern coastal plain.

Jewish military headquarters said Israeli forces had stopped Arab attempts to drive eastward along the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem road toward Maale Ha Hamisha, about seven miles west of Jerusalem.

Egypt, Iraq and Israel all reported air raids.

These included Iraqi bombing in the Petah Tiqva area east of Tel Aviv and Israeli bombing of targets in Arab Jenin, which has been under Jewish pressure.

found the gun which inflicted the fatal wound on the bed alongside the woman. He said the gun was a small .22 calibre pistol.

No fingerprints were obtained from the gun. "I guess too many people got hold of it first," Van Buren said.

The bullet had entered the woman's chest from the front just below the heart, the police chief said.

Mrs. Conklin was discovered dead by her husband, the Rev. Earl A. Conklin, 60, of the same address, police said, and notified police headquarters at 4:29 p. m.

A preliminary investigation was made by Patrolmen Earl Schoonmaker and Grover Hoffay, following which the detectives were assigned to the case.

Assistant District Attorney Connelly said that at the time of her death, Mrs. Conklin was in a second floor room with the door closed and latched from the inside. He said, however, that the latch could have been opened with a knife.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Conklin is survived by one son, Robert White, of this city; her parents, John and Willie Mathews; two sisters, Mrs. Gueanna Carter and Mrs. Genesser Pickett, all of Mississippi. Funeral arrangements will be announced.

May Rainfall Here Was 5.93 Inches

Although it appeared to many residents that Kingston experienced an unusual amount of rain last month, according to records kept at the city engineer's office the rainfall during May this year totaled 5.93 inches, which is about the average during the past four years for that month.

In May, 1945, rainfall totaled 7.65 inches; in the same month in 1946, a total of 5.02 inches fell and in May, 1947, 5.66 inches fell, according to the records at the city hall.

Total precipitation since January 1 of this year is 17.23 inches.

553 Dealer Licenses Are Denied in State

New York, June 3 (AP)—The registration law for auto dealers has demonstrated "its effectiveness in weeding out the illegitimate, the unscrupulous and the fly-by-night" dealer, Commissioner Clifford J. Fletcher of the Motor Vehicle Bureau says.

He told the annual meeting of the New York State Automobile Dealers Association yesterday that of the 1,500 new applications for dealer registrations received last year, 553 were denied.

Many of the applicants rejected could not establish a place of business, while many others were found to have filed false statements.

Fletcher and other officials warned of the growing perils created by reckless and drunken motorists.

Thomas J. Ryan, director of the State Division of Safety, said excessive drinking is responsible for 59 per cent of the cancellations of automobile insurance policies.

Speeding causes at least 45 per cent of the auto fatalities in the state and 30 per cent of the injuries, Ryan said.

trolled Congress two years. The Republicans have been in the saddle since January, 1947. Congress has not finally passed F.E.P.C., anti-lynch or anti-poll tax legislation.

President Truman lost the support of many southern Democrats earlier this year when he proposed his own civil rights program to Congress.

But some Democrats are saying privately the family quarrel could be settled by re-adopting the 1944 race plank.

Calling Children Home

London, June 3 (AP)—Russia is calling home for schooling the children of her diplomats in the United States and Britain. The Soviet embassy in London said today 40 children will leave Britain for Russia this month. The Soviet vice-consul in New York said yesterday about 105 children would go home to enter schools this fall. A private Soviet school operating in New York since 1941 closed.

Draft Measure Is

forces to meet changing world conditions.

Under terms of the Senate bill, Gurney said drafted men after completing two years of service would have to serve in the reserve for five years. They could avoid this by volunteering for an additional year in the regular services, or two years in the National Guard.

The 18 year olds who train for only one year would have to serve six years in the reserve or four years in the National Guard.

If the one-year trainee declined either such an assignment, he could be called to active duty for another 12 months with the regular services.

Veterans with more than 18 months service between September 16, 1940—date of the World War II draft law—and enactment of the new bill would be deferred along with those with more than 90 days' service during the "shooting war." That is defined as between Pearl Harbor, December 7, 1941, and VJ-Day, August 14, 1945.

The bill includes authority for the government to seize plants and industries which fail to accept or fill government orders of the armed services.

After Taxi Driver For Abducting Bride

York, Pa., June 3 (AP)—State police have sent out a broadcast for the arrest of a taxicab driver accused of abducting Mrs. Mary Kolinski, 17-year-old bride who was to have graduated from high school last night.

The police message stated that Arthur D. Deets, Jr., of Kingston, Pa., has been charged with abducting Mrs. Kolinski, who disappeared from her home last Friday.

The charge was filed, state police said, by Thomas T. Kolinski, 25, a New Britain, Conn., salesman, who said he and the missing girl were married at Elkton, Md., April 15, planning to announce their marriage after graduation.

Deets' wife told police that her husband left home last week, telling her he was going on a business trip. Mrs. Deets, police said, expressed the belief that her husband had become ill and was in a hospital somewhere.

Moon's Phases

The moon, many of the ancients thought, was a bowl of fire. The bowl turned around and around, they said, and seeing it from different angles gave the phases we know today as new moon, first quarter, last quarter, and full moon.

Included among the out of town people were residents of California and Nevada, who were given maps and information about the city and area.
